Preliminary announcement and call for papers

1990 International Symposium on Multiple-Valued Logic

The Symposium is organized by the Multiple-Valued Logic Technical Committee of the IEEE Computer Society in cooperation with the University of North Carolina on May 23–25, 1990 in Charlotte, North Carolina, USA, at the University of North Carolina in Charlotte (UNC-C).

Original research or survey papers on any subject in the area of multiple-valued logic are invited, including but not limited to:

- Algebraic and Formal Aspects
- Circuit/Device Implementation
- Fault Detection and Diagnosis
- Logic Design and Switching Theory
- Probabilistic and Variable-Valued Systems
- High Speed Computation
- Optical Computing
- Fault Tolerance and Reliability
- Fuzzy Logic
- Philosophical Aspects
- Approximation Reasoning
- Plausible Reasoning
- Automated Reasoning

Authors are requested to submit five copies in English, double-spaced typed manuscripts on A4 paper by November 1, 1989. Papers should be no longer than 20 pages and should include a short (not more than 100 words) abstract. Full address, telephone numbers, e-mail address are to be submitted. Papers should be sent to the closest Program Chair

Americas: Dr. Charles B. Silio, Electrical Engineering Dept., University of Maryland, College Park, Maryland 20742, U.S.A.

Europe/Africa: Dr. Daniel Etiemble, LRI-Bat 490, Université Paris Sud, 91 405 ORSAY Cedex, France.

Asia: Dr. Masao Mukaidono, Faculty of Engineering, Meiji University, 1-1-1 Higashi-mita Tama-ku, Kawasaki-shi 214, Japan.

Subject related questions can be directed to the Symposium Vice-Chairmen at UNC-C, Dr. Zbigniew W. Ras (in Computer Science/Mathematics), Dr. Hassan M. Razavi (in Computer Engineering), Dr. Marvin Croy (in Philosophy), to the Symposium Chairman Dr. George Epstein, or to the Academic Conferences Mgr. Dr. Carolyn Blalock. The address for all UNC-C correspondence is: UNC-C, Charlotte, N. C. 28223, U.S.A.
